We hear you

Now hear this... cut out the noise

Talk about noise pollution around the vicinity of Campbell Junior High School! Paging students all day to, "Come to the office" . . . this can be heard TWO blocks away. The secretary uses the broadcast system each time there is a message. Think of the interruptions in a school day. I say, let the students work while they are at the school.

Wondering

I've had a problem with getting my mail delivered off and on for the past six months. They are refusing to deliver mail to my box out front if anyone is parked in the street in front of the mail box. First the letter carrier wrote on an envelope that he couldn't deliver mail because the mailbox was blocked. When I asked about it I was told the only solution was to ask the people in the neighborhood not to park there. I called the Campbell police and they said, since the sidewalk isn't marked it's okay for anyone to park there. What do I do?

Concerned on Shadle Drive

Editor's note: According to Campbell Postmaster Ed Lassegard, the policy of the post office is to deliver to all mailboxes. However, he added, if a particular box is continually blocked and that may be the case here, the carrier will withhold a delivery to try and make the person "cease and desist." In your case it appears to be visitors to neighboring houses who are causing the problem; probably completely unaware of the consequence to you. The postmaster, who said he would look into your case, said sometimes he will write a letter to the neighbor(s) explaining the problem. Most people are happy to find another place to park once they understand the situation, he added.

TRYING out the rings on the new Par Course along Los Gatos Creek park is Mike Kelley. The 18-station exercise course is now operational, although you'll have to walk across the creek at Campbell avenue to get to the nine stations on the eastside until the pedestrian footbridge is installed. Starting at Campbell Park, corner of Gilman and Campbell avenues, you can walk and jog from station to station and try out the log hop, knee lift, hand walk, balance beam and top stretch stations, among others. Instructions are given at each station, along with an estimate of how long the entire 2-mile course should take.

City open space plan

School officials upset

By PAT SAFFORD

A CITY proposal to place open space zoning on existing school property has been sharply criticised by two of the three districts affected.

When the Open Space Element comes before Campbell city councilmen for review November 13 both the Moreland and Campbell Union High School districts will have someone there to voice objections. The Campbell elementary district has not yet taken a public stand.

"Moreland opposes the arbitrary zoning of O S (open space) to any school site declared surplus to the needs of the district," said Richard Davis, Moreland superintendent, in a letter to the city. "Such action would upsurp the authority of the board to fully control the programs and function of the district, create untenable, financial constraints and would thus be unrealistic."

"WE'RE NOT against open space," commented Jim Gillespie, assistant superintendent of the Campbell high district Monday. "But it's the way they're going about it. What do we do, for instance, if the city has no money to buy a surplus (school) site and we have no money to operate it?"

The practical effects of that zoning, Gillespie added, might put the district in the position of maintaining parks within the City of Campbell.

At an earlier meeting Gillespie asked the council to postpone action on the new element to allow districts time to study the proposal and to respond.

The new element, which also includes an inventory of present open space, calls for placing O S zoning on school play areas, city and county parks, utility corridors, transportation corridors, water areas and flood control channels.

"Church ground could also be included in this category," the draft proposal states.

IT ALSO calls for the city to "acquire school sites when they become available in areas that could be justified for park and open space purposes."

With student enrollment declining rapidly in the elementary districts two surplus sites are already "available" with more expected in future years.

The old Campbell grammar school property has been declared surplus by elementary district along with Hamilton School. Next fall San Tomas School is slated for closing.

In the Moreland district Coventry School could be one facility closed in the future, although no decision has been reached yet.

This year the high school district is taking its first look at school closings. Campbell High School is within the city limits and Westmont lies within the city's sphere of influence.

"Open space in an urban area is no accident," states the preamble to the Open Space Element. "It takes a good deal of farsightedness and dedication on the part of civic officials to ensure the fact that the community will have the open space so necessary for a healthy environment."

ONE THING school officials would like to know is who will insure payment for those school sites.

"The city is not in a position to assure the school district that it can purchase surplus school sites in order to preserve open space," Superintendent Davis said. "The automatic imposition of open space zoning would force the school district to expend funds for purposes unrelated to the education of children."

Field testing is held on competency exam

IF JOHNNY can't understand the label on his favorite brand of breakfast food, school officials will know about it by February of next year.

The first draft of a new state-mandated competency test for all freshmen and sophomores was recently field tested in the Campbell high school district with a random sampling of 650 students in the eight district schools.

The information obtained from that sampling will be used to finalize the first official competency exam to be administered early next year. Target date for the test is mid-January, according to Jay Russell, assistant superintendent.

Tests in the three R's came as a result of an edict handed down by the state legislature in 1976. That state push was in response to mounting questions and concerns from parents, college officials and employers about how well high schools are preparing students to enter higher education or the job market.

Each district throughout the state is developing their own tests in response to that mandate.

Videocom II working well

John Morgan's new 'talking machine'

COMMUNICATION has always been important to John Morgan, who initiated many programs which reached out to the community during his tenure as Campbell police chief.

FORMER Police Chief John Morgan is shown with Jim Baker of the Campbell Rotary Club. The local club helped obtain a new communications device for Morgan, unable to speak since a major stroke seven years ago.

(Photography by Joan Gielow)

Since the major stroke which left him almost totally paralyzed seven years ago, communication has been a laborous effort for Morgan. Until recently he used eye blinks to communicate with family and friends and to spell out the ideas and messages that went into the several books he's authored.

But today, through the effort of the Campbell Rotary Club and others, Morgan can transmit his thoughts onto a television monitor and, from there, onto a printer much like a teletype machine.

The club became involved in the project at the request of a former member, Dean Vesling. The then manager of the IBM card plant in Campbell had been contacted by Vincent Diehl, an old friend of Morgan, who served as a volunteer policeman when Morgan was the only professional law enforcement officer in the city.

Diehl began working on an automatic typewriter and asked Vesling to furnish an electric typewriter, which the manager was able to obtain from IBM.

THE FIRST DEVICE, a display board of letters with photoelectric cells, was not successful because Morgan had problems focusing the light beam into the photoelectric cells.

After that the local club began looking for other equipment and learned from the Valley Medical Center spinal disease center of other communication systems which had been developed.

The club, according to project chairman Jim Baker, was put in touch with a Campbell firm, Micro-Communication Devices, which had developed a system for severely handicapped and paralyzed persons. Created by founders Joost Mortelmans, an IBM electronics engineer, and Dr. Eric Denys, a San Francisco neurologist, the new Videocom II was just what Morgan needed.

The $3,600 equipment consists of a television monitor that is hooked up to electronics equipment activated by Morgan through the use of morse code. A very sensitive switch was devised so Morgan can trip the switch whenever a particular letter appears in the window at the bottom of the TV screen. That letter is then transferred up petencies needed to function in present-day society. The 6,500 freshmen and sophomores in the district will be the first required to meet that requirement.

This is in addition to the graduation requirements set up by the school board last year.

"Although there is a good deal of attention focused right now on the competency tests," Russell said, "they are only a small part of the overall graduation requirements for 1981."

Every graduate, starting with the present sophomore class, will be required to complete a minimum of 200 units in addition to the competency requirements. The 200 units shall include 40 units of English, 25 in social studies, 30 in physical education, 10 each in math and applied arts and five units in health education. The remaining 80 units can be selected from elective courses.

The new requirements, and the tests, came as a result of a year of study by a district graduation requirements committee made up of administrators, teachers, parents and students. That group came up with a suggested list of 81 competencies and those recommendations were adopted by the school board last June.

DURING THE summer district staffers, under the direction of Wade Schroeder, director of counseling and guidance, worked with the McGraw Hill publishing firm to build the required competencies into tests.

More than one set of tests will have to be developed by the district, Schroeder explained. State law requires that if a student fails the first time around he must be tested again in the 10th and 11th grades. The district will provide remedial help for students who fail part or all of the first test.

"The goal," said Schroeder," is to see that every student who graduates has the required competencies."

A style they hope you'll remember

By MARY LESTER

WINE style? That term, believe it or not, has come into somewhat common usage only during the past two years. Previous to 1976, only a few most knowledgeable wine fans ever had any reason to think about a "style" of a wine for, after all, wasn't wine either good, bad, ordinary or great?

Those definitions of wine still hold true but now comes a very, very sophisticated form of winemaking called "style." Let's look at it this way: If any of you have ever had the opportunity to taste three or more ounces of some magnificent chateau wine from Europe (like a Romanee Conti, Chateau d'Yquem or Lafite), you'll instantaneously recognize some greatness about the wine and plus that, there will be smell and taste qualities that are unique.

You'll hold on to these characteristics and when the wine is once more tasted — even if it's several years hence, you'll mentally or vocally exclaim: "That's a Chateau etc., etc." What you will have done is remembered the wine because of the particular style the winemaker has evolved and decided on through generations. He wants his wine to be recognizable year after year, even though sometimes the wine will be better or not as good as previous years.

In California, since the 1940's until the late '60's, there were only a handful of wineries that produced one or two wines that could be picked out during comparative tastings. Beaulieu's Private Reserve Cabernet Suavignon, Wente's Rieslings, Weibel's Green Hungarian, Korbel's Brut champagne, Charles Krug's Chenin Blanc, Louis Martini's Cabernet Sauvignon and Zinfandel were easily distinguished, as well as acclaimed for drinkability.

OTHER THAN those wineries and a few others out of the 300 or so California wineries coming and going out of business during the past three decades, the criterion seems to have been: let's make a very good wine, period. Why fool around with trying to be different or, in other terms, "rock the boat?"

However, fate, or the world, or events or whatever, caught up with the California wine industry when the wine boom started in the late '60s and so many wineries were started that new winemakers, most of them young, had to be hired. These men had their own ideas about what wine should be like and many of them were given the "open sesame" wand which meant they could do their own thing.

Consequently, we have within the past eight to ten years an entire new phase of the winemaking industry. This equates to some wineries making at least two or three wines that are so uniquely consistent in taste that they have formed their own recognizable "style."

Dave Stare, co-owner-winemaker of Dry Creek was one of the first to develop his own style in the early 1970s. Bob Mondavi started marketing a Fume Blanc with a special taste, distinguishable as his own and, with the resurgence of Inglenook with Tom Farrell as winemaker, they have several wines with their own taste hallmark.

AND, LET us not forget the winery that has done more for the whole industry than any multiple combination — Gallo. They have Hearty Burgundy, a wine everyone can be proud to serve and

A wine that has style denotes a wineman with definite ideas. Richard Arrowood of Chateau St. Jean is one such. Dick knows what he wants his wines to portray. And, in Dick's case, as well as those other talented ones who have been given the opportunity to shine, the message could well be: "This is what I want this wonderful wine to taste like and I want you who drink it to remember." Amen.

onto the screen itself. A word is formed and then a sentence. When the full message is complete, Morgan can trigger the electronic device to type the message on the printer.

THE MACHINE was paid for through Workman's Compensation insurance by the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

Adapting the machine to handle Morgan's morse code messages was done by volunteer Jerry Gleason, an engineer from Stanford Research Institute.

Gleason has other ideas for Morgan that he's now working on including expanding the system or developing a new one to help Morgan play the electric organ or operate a ham radio station. Gleason is also working to develop a smaller, more portable device that Morgan can take with him away from home.

And Morgan is keeping his new equipment humming with messages to family and friends.

New bus on view at city hall

VISITORS to the Campbell City Council meeting on Monday, November 13 will be able to take a look at one of the new county transit buses that will go into service before the end of the year. A new GMC RTS-2 bus will be on display that night in front of City Hall at 7:30 p.m. The council meeting starts at 8. Vice Mayor Norm Paul, a member of the county transportation commission, says the buses are perhaps the most modern available and the first of this type to be placed in service in Northern California. The diesel powered, 40 foot buses, seats 47 passengers and features air conditioning, fluorescent lighting, cantilevered seats and dual circuit drum air brakes.

Hospital use hearing is set

If you have ideas on what type of health services you'd like to see at the old Campbell Community Hospital, now is the time to have your say.

A public meeting to discuss possible services to be offered at the new O'Connor Hospital at Campbell will be held on Thursday, November 9 at 8 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

O'Connor recently purchased the facility from the former owners through a bankruptcy court.

At the time of that acquisition Rod Aymond, O'Connor executive vice president, said suggestions from the Campbell community would be considered before final plan are made for the 48-bed facility.

Among possible uses he outlined then was an outpatient surgical center, treatment center for senior citizens, and a possible center for patients with chronic pain.

The Civic Improvement Commission is hosting the public meeting next Thursday, along with Councilman Rusty Hammer, named the city council liaison.

Representing O'Connor at the meeting will be Connie Ziegler, director of planning.

Those interested in the future of the hospital can attend the meeting or send letters prior to November 9 to Civic Improvement Commission, 75 N. Central ave., Campbell.

REPORT TO CONSUMERS

CRISPNESS TEST

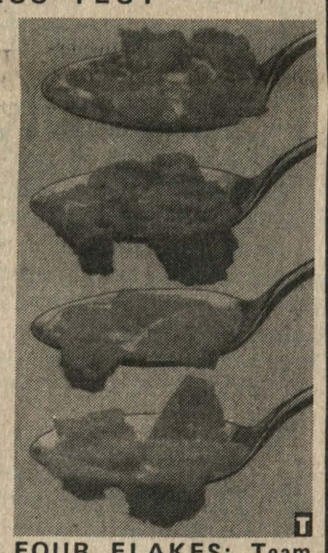
In an attempt to test advertising claims, a Florida newspaper recently conducted an experiment to determine the crispest breakfast cereal flakes.

The ad was for Team Flakes and pledged that product to stay crisper in milk than other flakes.

Nabisco, the company that created Team, said in its ads that hundreds of cereal lovers were timed and tested by one of the country's leading independent research companies. The testers all ate identical bowls of Team Flakes along with the leading corn, wheat and oat cereals. The same amounts of cereal and milk—at the same temperature—were put in each bowl. Opinions were taken at 30 second intervals, and the researchers concluded that the Team Flakes stayed crunchier than its competition.

The newspaper in its test, measured an ounce of each type of cereal into separate bowls and poured into each bowl four ounces of milk.

After a four-minute soak (about the time it takes to eat a bowlful of cereal) a flake was retrieved from the bottom of each bowl.



FOUR FLAKES: Team (the top spoon), an oat flake, a wheat flake and a corn flake faced a rough crispness test.

According to the paper, "The oat and corn flakes were unadulterated mush. The wheat flakes bravely tried to stand out from the crowd and garnered a poor second place. But it was clearly Team's day. Team was firm, full-bodied, proud." It concluded that Team stays crisper and crunchier longer.

We endorse

Brown for Governor

GOVERNOR JERRY Brown is, without question, one of the unique political figures on the national scene. His innovative approaches to both politics and government have left most observers agape. But on balance, we would have to admit that his administration of California has been successful, given the complexities and the frustrating diversity of this huge state.

Much of what a political leader does is symbolic. He must reflect a style, an attitude, what is picked up by others in government. Brown certainly has done that.

Brown set out to open the way for the vast number of unrepresented elements in our society to have a share of the decision-making. He has done this far more than any previous governor. And, as a result, many special economic interest groups are vigorously opposed to his re-election.

Attorney General Evelle Younger has offered little in the way of demonstration that he would or could carry forward some of the important changes Brown has brought forth. Younger's election would result in California moving backward two or three decades governmentally. The state has passed that era by. It cannot return to it.

We support Jerry Brown's re-election.

Bird for Supreme Court

ONE OF THE most unprincipled campaigns we have ever seen is being run against the confirmation on Nov. 7 of Chief Justice Rose Bird of the California State Supreme Court.

Most of the attack, aimed at getting a "no" vote on her confirmation, is taking the form of the "big lie." The truth seems to be smothered under a media blitzkrieg.

Actually Justice Eird has performed her duties well. She has written judicial opinions of merit and careful reasoning. They are based on objective interpretations of the law, which is what the highest court is supposed to do. It is not a law-making body nor should it ever become perverted to become one. It seems to us, the far right wing is trying to bring that about.

She is a fair-minded judicial presence on

Winter for sheriff

IT IS ALWAYS difficult for someone to change a long-held position, and it is even more onerous for a newspaper, once that view has seen print. But in the case of the current race for sheriff of Santa Clara county, that decision must be made.

The incumbent sheriff, James Geary, has been in office too long. Power corrupts and the longer a powerful official stays in office, the temptations grow ever greater. Sheriff Geary has shown by both his lackluster operation of the department that he has lost interest in being a good, hard-working administrator. His leadership of a 700-person professional force is nil. That is obvious from the unprecedented 96 percent vote endorsing his opponent on the part of the deputies.

BUT IT GOES beyond a set of serious defects concerning patrol, law enforcement, jail conditions, personnel turnover and staff discontent. Allegations of weapons and drugs in the women's jail at Milpitas as well as the recent breakout by seven inmates are symptomatic of deeper trouble.

In this and many other questions, the sheriff is not coming forth with full answers.

Winter, by contrast, is a dedicated law enforcement professional who can breathe new life into the department. The problems created by long neglect will not end quickly, but Winter's election will be the beginning. We recommend the voters start the process with a new sheriff.

Hammer for Assembly

IN THE 22nd assembly district we endorse challenger Rusty Hammer.

Over the past six years Hammer has demonstrated strong leadership in elective office on the city level and on the county level in appointive posts such as a director of Economic and Social Opportunities and the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board.

We also feel he will be a state leader responsive to his constituents. During his tenure as Mayor of Campbell, Hammer instituted regular office hours at City Hall and was easily accessible to the public.

We feel Hammer will be a hard working and able legislator.

Smith for Senate

AN ENERGETIC, informed, and accessible legislator, Jerry Smith has worked hard during his first term as state senator, 12th Senatorial District, and he deserves your vote for re-election.

Smith impresses us as that blend of liberal Democrat and down-to-earth, practical thinker which we so much need in Sacramento in these post-Proposition 13 days.

Although not originally a supporter of the Jarvis initiative, Smith has demonstrated an eagerness to respond to the taxpayers' demands for more economical government. Issues like correcting tax inequities, and coming up with a better way to finance our schools — important issues to voters in his district — have occupied Smith in the past and will continue to get his attention in Sacramento if he's re-elected. Smith is also a firm believer in making government accountable, making programs justify their costs to the taxpayer.

Smith has done a fine job of keeping in touch with his constituents, through local meetings and setting up 'sidewalk office hours." We think he'll continue to be an effective and responsive legislator in his next term.

Mineta for Congress

NORMAN MINETA is our choice for the 13th Congressional District seat, for which he is seeking a third term. Mineta has proven himself in the past four years to be perceptive of the thinking of his constituents, hard-working, and conscientious about that key issue in this Congressional race — economics.

Mineta prides himself on his individual and committee moves to lower the cost of government. He points to his membership on the House Budget Committee, which reduced the federal deficit to its lowest in five years. And he has also co-sponsored legislation to apply zero-based budgeting to federal programs — an effort to make each program justify its cost.

He knows the workings of Washington's vast bureaucracy well, and can use this knowledge to the advantage of his constituents. We find him to be a well-informed Congressman who doesn't shirk from an active role in major, complex issues like tax reform — and we want to encourage him to work toward chipping away at the federal budget.

Aunt Bessie gets the credit

By PAT SAFFORD

MY FAMILY comes from the old school of thought where every physical trait or personality quirk is attributed to an ancestor.

"You have your Dad's dimples," is a comment I've heard a hundred times. Or, "My mother had dark hair too . . ."

"She laughs just like her Aunt Mary," was a remark I first remember hearing at about age 4.

But have you noticed relatives only use these references to explain away positive characteristics or to excuse your being "different" in some way? Like when you wear a size 10 shoe in a family where the women are all 5AA's (that's my paternal grandmother's fault).

Parents will almost never take credit for undesirable behavior. Like the time I got caught stealing a candy bar from the store.

"No one in MY family is a thief," was the retort.

If they will accept responsibility for unacceptable behavior it is always a distant relative . . . by marriage. The time I got locked in the piano room of Mills College overnight, for instance.

"YOUR FATHER'S second cousin Bob was always doing crazy things," was the explanation.

No, you have to accept total responsibility for your mistakes . . . while receiving no credit for your accomplishments.

"Your grandfather was musical," was the response I got when, trying to impress my family, I announced I was going to be the first girl drummer in the school band.

I showed this column to my father recently as a not too subtle hint.

"You know," he said, "Your Aunt Bessie could always write. . ."

Our readers write

Open letter to city council and the Campbell community

As a member of a newly-formed group, Community Center Advocates, I would like to indicate to you on behalf of the group and myself our desires with regard to the San Tomas Neighborhood Improvement Program.

Our primary concern is the San Tomas neighborhood and preservation of the San Tomas School site as a community center.

We feel that ourselves and the City must move ahead with expediency towards preservation of this facility for continued community use because, as you know, the facility has been slated for closure as an operating school in June of 1979, and it is our belief due to the value of land in the west valley and other considerations, the school district will move towards disposal of this property.

We would ask therefore that the City Council earmark what remains in the HCD funding under the headings of community centers, park and recreation improvements and those funds that can be channeled for this purpose from neighborhood improvement programs for this facility.

We would like you to consider the following points which favor such funding on behalf of a community center at the San Tomas School site:

• The location of the site is absolutely ideal, as it is centered within a residential area for easy access and usage by those that desire to avail themselves of the facility.

• There is a lack of parks, recreational and public facilities in the San Tomas neighborhood area.

• The facility shortly will no longer be used as an operating school and therefore can be adapted to the various uses the community desires.

• In light of the federal housing and community development act, the facility could provide the "general benefits" and in part the "suitable living environment" thereby required. Among these same requirements, the facility could as it now does, provide on a broader base and larger scale the "neighborhood facility parks, playgrounds" and "other recreation facilities."

• This facility could provide the moderate-income families, as required by the HCD Act in the San Tomas neighborhood, a means by which they would be able through their own efforts and with help from the City run their own community center on a basically self-supporting program.

• The San Tomas neighborhood wants to see this facility remain for community use.

• A project of this nature would be in compliance with and help the City meet the required objectives of the prospective Open Space Element as to the acquiring of school sites as they become available.

Additionally, funding a project of this type would comply with the City's action plan, section III (D) of that Open Space Element which provides that "The City shall continue to seek alternate means of financing the acquisition and/or development of Open Space Lands."

On the night of October 19, at the public meeting at San Tomas School, the school cafetorium was filled that evening with citizens from the San Tomas neighborhood. The majority desired to see that facility retained for community use.

In addition that evening, Sharon Welton of Community Center Advocates, prepared and presented to that group a short survey. Of the 70 responses, 67 were in favor of that site as a community center. Three said "no" with reservations that they desired a park or library and only one indicated they would rather have a commercial development or R-1 housing.

The San Tomas neighborhood is gravely concerned with the quality of community life in our immediate area and feel an urgency to grasp the opportunity of retaining this facility for public use, as we feel the quality of that neighborhood community life is contingent upon retention of that site to a large degree.

We have great fears concerning that land loss and know that once these lands are gone, obviously we cannot get them back. We feel that ultimately the quality of community life in the San Tomas neighborhood as well as the city of which we are a part would greatly deteriorate.

We want to work towards meeting the needs of all segments of our community; the senior citizens, the pre-school and school-age children, our teenagers, educational and recreational classes and group activites provided by the Scouts, Brownies, etc.

This facility can continue to meet those needs and we know that these opportunities on an expanding basis can be fully realized through our concerted efforts.

'Yes' on Measure A

BACK IN 1972, we strongly supported the amendment to the county's charter providing for a 10 cents per $100 of assessed value tax to make the major kind of purchases of parkland desperately needed by a fast urbanizing county.

The voters approved and the program has done everything its boosters hoped. Although it still has four years to go, the fund won't buy as much anymore. And because of Prop. 13, the county also finds itself short of maintenance funds to keep up those park acquisitions.

Measure A on the ballot next Tuesday will extend the program for another five years and at the same time okay the use of up to 30 percent of the fund for maintenance and operations.

We urge a "yes" vote on Measure A.

To all politicians

EDITOR:

I found this in an old book of poetry. It was written before women had assumed the place in affairs which we now hold but I think these lines apply now, both to men and women, in view of the coming elections.

Madeline Hanks

God, give us men! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;
Men whom the luck of office does not kill.
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will,
Men who have honor, men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demogogue
And damn his treacherous flatterings without winking.
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog,
In public duty and in private thinking.
For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds
Their large professions and their little deeds
Mingle in selfish strife, Lo! Freedom weeps.
Wrong rules the world, and waiting Justice sleeps.

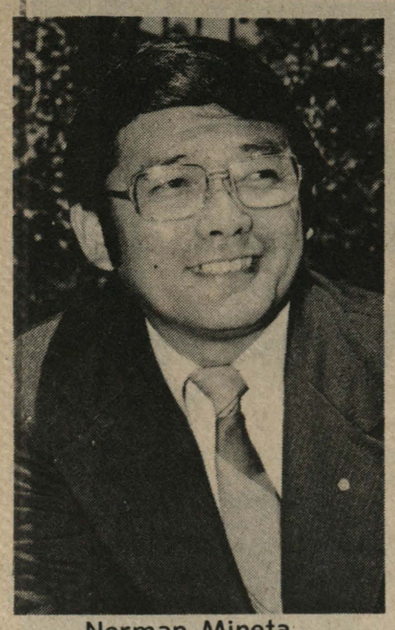
In the race for 13th Congressional seat

Mineta's focus: the economy



Norman Mineta

By SUE BEVING

Norman Mineta, Democrat, seeking his third term to the 13th Congressional District, which stretches from Cupertino, through Saratoga, Los Gatos, and some of San Jose to Gilroy. As of Sept. 28, voter registration in the district gave the Democrats an edge. Totals showed 128,198 Democrats and 91,017 Republicans.

THE ECONOMY is the issue in the 13th Congressional race and Democratic incumbent Mineta uneasily notes that 1978 is not an incumbent's year.

Mineta believes that his Republican challenger, Dan O'Keefe, is more credible than his last challenger, Ernie Konnyu, although Konnyu this year has made it into a run-off election for county assessor. To illustrate his point, Mineta says O'Keefe has won elective offices, and adds disparagingly "he has wrapped himself up in the Jarvis program."

The congressman likes to stress his knowledge of his district and his experience in the nation's capitol. "When people voted for the president they thought he was anti-Washington. But he hasn't been able to put it together in a city that's hard on non-Washingtonians," Mineta says of President Carter.

When Mineta went to Washington, he says, he already was familiar with some of the federal government's inner workings and its representatives because of his involvement with the California League of Cities and U.S. Conference of Mayors.

A REPUBLICAN congressman wouldn't be as effective as a Democrat, Mineta says, not only because he would be a minority but he would have to work with a Democratic administration. Also, Mineta says, many Republicans feel "isolated" and are "bailing out" of Congress because their party is controlled by Conservatives.

Mineta, when a member of the freshman class of Congress, gained publicity for the institutional reforms he and his colleagues sought to achieve, such as the change in rules for committee chairmanships. But recently he has been more low-profile.

"First you have to get the changes passed and then when you do, you have to get them to work. That's what the last two years have been about," he says. "It doesn't occupy as much media visibility. But we have to make sure the rules are not violated."

He notes that the House Code of Ethics places a ceiling on outside income for Congressmen at 15 percent of their congressional salaries. "That's why a lot of people bailed out," Mineta says. "It's those damned Republicans who bitch about the (congressional) increase in pay, but then want to lift the ceiling on outside income." The rule takes effect Jan. 1.

"Every damned letter I've gotten on that pay increase has been critical," he adds.

Mineta says he didn't vote on the pay increase, which was tacked on in the Senate to a bill dealing with postal worker safety. But, he notes, "Our last hike was in 1969." Congressional pay was increased by $12,900 to $57,500 annually.

THE CONGRESSMAN has been rapped in some parts of his district for his vote against the tuition tax credit. However, he calls the credit more symbolic than real. "What's a $250 tax credit for someone spending $4,000 on tuition?" he reasons.

Every college president in the state opposed the tax credit because they were afraid it would take away from other assistance programs for middle income students, Mineta says. The revenue lost from the credit would have amounted to $1.8 billion the first year and $5.6 billion by the third year, he says.

Noting that many parents send their children to private schools, Mineta says, "I feel very strongly that the public school system is a democratizing influence." If parents are dissatisfied with the quality of public education, then that issue should be addressed within the public school system," he says. (The adopted version of the tuition tax credit applies only to college.)

Most of the charges and countercharges in the campaign have centered on the economy. In his discussions, Mineta notes that Howard Jarvis had sent a telegram to all candidates for federal office saying that if they supported his tax proposal they would receive financial assistance. Mineta turned over the telegram to the U.S. Justice Department for investigation of bribery. Mineta says he assumes that O'Keefe agreed to Jarvis' terms, because Jarvis is supporting O'Keefe. But O'Keefe says he hasn't gotten money from Jarvis and wouldn't accept it anyway because he prefers a "grass roots" campaign.

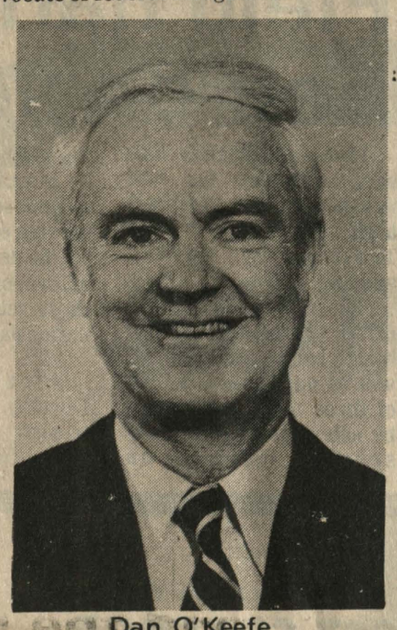
MINETA BELIEVES that the federal deficit is reflective of the state of the economy. For every percent of unemployment over four percent the cost is $19 billion, he says. "We're not at 6.2 percent unemployment, which still represents close to $40 billion, which gets reflected in the federal budget. Many people wanted the federal budget reduced overnight. If there's high unemployment we can't do it," he says.

"Tax reform is something everyone talks about in a general way. But what about the specifics?" he says. "Some are necessary, we've got to reduce the number of preferential tax treatments (such as the tuition tax credit) and lower the general tax percentage." He proudly notes that in 1969-70 a minimum income tax schedule was passed. "Why should people with high incomes pay less than those with low incomes?" he asks.

"People want simplistic answers to complex questions. I've never been one to deal with simplistic answers," he concludes.

Mineta, who sits on the House Budget Committee, claims that it reduced the federal deficit to the lowest in five years. Mineta says he also is co-sponsor of legislation that would apply the administrative concept of zero-based budgeting to programs. All federal spending programs would be eliminated unless Congress extended them. The congressman says he also is an advocate of federal deregulation.

O'Keefe blasts 'big spender'



Dan O'Keefe

By SUE BEVING

Dan O'Keefe, Republican. Cupertino City Councilman and former member of the Cupertino Union School District board. High school teacher.

O'KEEFE, WHO is making his first try for a higher office, is fond of calling his opponent, Norman Mineta, a "big spender" and "advocate of big government."

O'Keefe also likes to point out that he was a public supporter of Proposition 13, the property tax limitation inititive approved by California voters on June 6. When asked what form his support took, O'Keefe said he had planned to endorse the measure when it was considered by the Cupertino City Council, but that it was removed from the council agenda. He later made his support known, he said. A fellow council member when asked, however, couldn't recall the item being on the agenda.

Another council member recalled that the council was considering holding a community meeting to show a League of California Cities film on Prop. 13, but decided it was too biased against the measure.

O'Keefe says he always has been asked to seek public office, beginning with his service on the Cupertino Planning Commission. Most recently, he says, he was contacted by some members of Congress urging him to run in the 13th Congressional District. "It's the highest service you can pay to the nation," he says.

O'Keefe says his father once was a Democratic candidate for the state Senate and that his mother was active in the Democratic Farm Labor party.

"BUT THERE'S too much government, too much bureaucracy," he says. "I though the Democrats were for local control. But they're for concentrated control."

O'Keefe says that Mineta voted the party line on reducing the capital gains tax. And Mineta's position has resulted in the American Electronics Association's political action commitee endorsing O'Keefe's candidacy. Mineta supported the administration's compromise on the capital gains tax, rather than a measure the AEA was pushing.

"He (Mineta) has voted against every major tax cut and for every major tax increase," O'Keefe declares. "He was regional whip for the social security tax. He voted against a 2 percent cut in the Health, Education and Welfare budget. He has some of the highest ratings by the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) and COPE (AFL-CIO's committee on political education). I would say that is okay if he could have some kind of balance.

"Every time you inflate the economy through a deficit it penalizes people from buying a home and also senior citizens. If you put money in the bank, if there's a six percent interest return, there will be 10-12 percent inflation. That's wrong," says O'Keefe.

"We've poured $180 billion into welfare since about 1962, all it has created is a dependent class."

O'Keefe says he would like to reduce the capital gains tax to zero, reduce the federal budget, take away "bureaucratic" positions and red tape and eliminate some regulatory agencies.

AMONG CHARGES he makes against Mineta are that the Democrat voted against reducing "controllable expenditures "by Congress and related agencies by five percent; against reducing a $5.8 billion food stamp appropriation by 5 percent; against cutting the Agriculture Department's spending by 2 percent; against a two percent cut in "controllable" HEW and Labor Department expenditures; for continuing Congressional freebies, such as full-color calendars, against cutting back a federal Housing and Urban Development department appropriation by two percent; for hiking his own salary; and against sending a Public Works and Energy Appropriation back to committee for a three percent cut.

He also claims that Mineta voted to increase the limit on the national debt to $849.1 billion, but he didn't specify which year.

O'Keefe also says that Mineta supported creation of a consumer protection agency, to allow HEW and the Labor Department to use tax dollars to "force the use of racial and other kinds of quotas in hiring, promotion and admissions policies," also for "forced" busing and for requiring air bags in cars.

"Mineta is honorable but we're on the completely opposite side of the political fence. People will know they can't afford to have Mineta represent them any longer," O'Keefe says.

BANK OF AMERICA
Introduces The Interest/Checking Plan.

Starting November 1st, we're offering Californians a unique kind of checking plan: Our Interest/Checking Plan.

What's new about it? Several things. The Interest/Checking Plan is a checking account with a special savings account attached so that the money you would normally use for writing checks will earn a full 5% interest, compounded daily.

When you write a check, the amount of the check is automatically transferred from the special savings account back to the checking account. Depending on the size of the balance you keep, the interest on your special savings account can cover your Interest/Checking Plan service charges and provide extra income, too.

To open an Interest/Checking Plan, you need a $500 minimum deposit at Bank of America. After that, no minimum balance is required. There's a $3.00 monthly service charge, plus a 10 cent charge for each check paid. Incidentally, both these service charges are waived if a $2,000 minimum balance is maintained.

Now, if this plan isn't right for you, Bank of America offers a variety of other checking plans for you to choose from. So come to Bank of America and let's talk checking.

This is no City of Campbell truck

An old truck which has been reportedly parked in the Rolling Hills shopping center more than a year was one of the gripes San Tomas area residents aired at a recent public meeting. Campbellites, concerned about the appearance of the truck with the shot out windows, asked the city to move "their truck." It turns out the city doesn't own it but "City of Campbell" had been painted on a side panel during its long stay in the parking lot. By the time our photographer got to the center last week "City of" had been painted out. Campbell police officer Frank Windt said Monday that notice has gone out to have the truck removed this week or the city will start abatement proceedings and have the vehicle towed away; city vehicle or no.

An article entitled "Rebels and the Part They Play in the World" won national recognition for Laura Livengood, Prospect High School senior.

Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P.A. Livengood of Saratoga, is one of 850 winners in the competition sponsored by the National Council of English Teachers.

Those competing were assigned a topic and given one hour in which to write, edit and rewrite their articles.

"Although she was allowed no reference materials or pre-study on the topic," said her teacher Joan Shahan, "Laura did an excellent job. She wrote about famous people such as Christ, Picasso, Van Gogh, who were considered rebels in their times but changed the world with their ideas."

While no monetary award is given, the teachers' council sends commendations for each of the winners to colleges, universities, members of Congress and to state superintendents of schools.

Valet parking, office building plans told

Plans for valet parking at The Factory, an office building in downtown Campbell and a residential development on W. Hacienda avenue are three projects that come before city planning commissioners for review this Tuesday, November 7. Meetings start at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

Brondon Coporation is seeking a use permit to allow a temporary parking lot with valet service at 36 S. Second st. while the two-story parking deck behind The Factory is being built.

Also on the tentative agenda are plans by Campbell Building and Investment Company, Inc. for an office building at 54 N. Central avenue in a planned development-commercial zone.

Thomas Jackson and Jackson Homes is seeking a zone change from single family-low density residential to planned development-low density residential and approval of plans for five single family homes for property at 1428 and 1440 W. Hacienda avenue. The existing two-unit development on the site would remain.

Other applications coming up Tuesday include:

• Plans by Chester Yanik and Deluxe Check Printers, Inc. for an office addition to an industrial building at 1551 Dell avenue in a controlled manufacturing zone.

• Application of Lewis Frayer for architectural approval for a six-unit condominium at 3495 S. Bascom ave. in a multiple family-high density residential zone.

• Consideration of plans for off-site directional signs at 85 S. Second st. to be used for liquidation sales. The area is in a planned development-medium density residential zone.

HOW TO LIVE WITH A DIRT MACHINE

Harried mothers all agree that most children seem to attract dirt like magnets. If your children induce the majority of your cleaning problems, these suggestions may help you prevent, live with, or even rise above them.

One of the greatest dirt problems suffered by mothers of children of all ages is "tracked-in" dirt left on floors throughout the house. To remove left-behind footprints and grime, as well as many common household germs, from washable floors use a solution of Pine Power® disinfectant cleaner and water to clean, disinfect and deodorize all at the same time.

The Greek historian Herodotus wrote that the builders of the Great Pyramid of Giza lived mainly on garlic and onions.

Did The Auditors Find 48 Of Every 100 Homes Overtaxed?

YOU'D BETTER BELIEVE IT!

The County Grand Jury found so many problems in the Assessor's Office that they arranged to have an independent audit made of the Assessor's operations. One of America's largest audit firms, Arthur Anderson & Co., made the audit.

What did they find? 48 of every 100 homes were overtaxed because of incorrect assessments. 16 of every 100 homes were undertaxed because of assessment errors. The remaining 36 of every 100 homes passed. So 3 homes were overtaxed to every 1 home that was undertaxed. The auditors also found that industrial property was undertaxed 7%. The County Grand Jury endorsed the 88 page audit report listing these and many other wrongs.

Ernie Konnyu is committed to correct these errors by equalizing assessments next year and thereby saving tax dollars for homeowners. His opponent, the Assistant Assessor, is committed, as shown in an October 18 Mercury-News story, not to correct these errors. This attitude alone is an indictment for change.

Why is their system so hardened in the Assessor's office? Bureaucrats have been running this office for 63 years! For over six decades, each retiring assessor ... the Pitmans, Noll, and Mathieson ... endorsed and tried to elect one of their favored civil service employees as the next assessor. They pulled it off for over six decades until the people put the Assistant Assessor into second place in this year's June 6 primary ... and Ernie Konnyu into first place. Now ... it's up to all of us on November 7.

On September 27 Ernie Konnyu told Howard Jarvis that the Assessor's Office tried to "loophole" around Proposition 13. Jarvis grabbed Ernie's hand and held it high for all those to see.

ERNIE WITH PAUL GANN

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

© Bea Rene Inc.

I received a very complimentary call from a gentleman who took my advice & entertained his guests at LE PAVILION atop the LE BARON HOTEL ... this Continental restaurant was excellent as usual & his guests were extremely impressed. They enjoyed the Pepper Steak flamed tableside. Grenadine of Beef, a supreme Roast Prime Rib of Beef au Jus, & a delicate Poached Salmon. Preceded by Vichyssoise & Wilted Spinach Salad, he told me this was indeed a magnificent banquet.

Talented CHEF CHU not only is noted for his fine Mandarin restaurant on San Antonio & El Camino, he also has a fine catering service & he is now booking for holiday parties for up to 500. A great idea if you & your group are planning a holiday "bash" — let CHEF CHU be the cook & you can be the perfect hostess. Every afternoon at 4 p.m., the fr. Roast Pork & Honey BBQ Ribs, BBQ Spare Ribs come out of the oven hot & sizzling — the time to arrive at CHEF CHU'S.

Tho the exterior of HWEI FU SHING is not as pretentious & spectacular as some Chinese restaurants, once you step inside to the friendly hospitality of the Pang On Lui family & taste the chef's fine cuisine, you'll know you're in for a treat. Try the Chinese Pancakes (a type of Onion Pie), Hot & Sour Soup, Mu Shu Pork, Mongolian Beef, Curry Shrimp, Cashew Chicken, Oyster Sauce Mushrooms — Chef/owner Pang On Lui also prepares Peking duck if ordered in advance.

DINING GUIDE

as recommended by Bea René

"SERVICE WITH A GROWL??"

Whatever happened to "Service with a Smile???" Excellent cuisine can go unnoticed if served by a grouchy waiter or a waitress (who perhaps has had an argument). Not long ago a friend who is noted for his droll sense of humor waited for over 20 min. for the waiter to take his order . . . I'm told he asked the tardy waiter, "What's my sentence . . . I've been on bread & water long enough!!" Let's face it, poor service is the fastest way to go out of business . . . of course, most good restaurateurs are knowledgeable about this, & simply don't tolerate a grouch (but can they be lurking in the background at all times?? No way!) Lucky is he who discovers a terrific waiter, with impeccable manners, attentive service (not hovering tho), & friendly personality . . . & the knack to remember names & special orders & quirks of their customers. "Flattery can get you everywhere," is certainly applicable, especially where the expected "tip" is concerned. The restaurateur can also expect a returnthat's what he's in business for . . . right? So, here's my nomination for a super waiter & Matire 'd: The Amador brothers — AUGUSTO & BILL, who not only give that friendly, personal touch, but Augusto even remembers your favorite song, & plays it on his piano while you enjoy the delicious European fare.

TRAVEL AFFAIR: Dr. Robert & Irene Danielson of Los Altos Hills recently returned from an extended trip to Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark & Russia — Irene tells me that you'd better be prepared to enjoy Smorgasbord, since it is served extensively in Scandanavia (Finland's was the best) . . . served with each was an abundance of deer meat (reindeer, that is — she tells me it's a dark meat, baked, then thinly sliced like corned beef)—they do excel in fresh cheeses, pastries & breads, & of course, many fish dishes. Now Russia has discovered frozen peas & French fries — The Danielson's had this served to them for breakfast in Leningrad. Russian women pay the equivalent of $5 for one flavorless melon, & walk away smiling happily. Naturally, Irene & Danny noticed the low public health standards — at one place workers crowded around a vending machine, drinking juice & putting the glass back on top of the machine for the next person's use (unwashed). Dr. Dan's only comments were of the women — he picked the Scandanavian women over the Russian — Reason? The Russion women seem to be blessed (?) with the Hirsute qualities of the Simian family

Popular long time Peninsula restaurateur, Durby Adkins, is host & Gen. Mgr. of beautiful new BLACK OAK of Palo Alto. Italian & French saute dishes & corn-fed choice beef are prepared by expert chefs Joseph Bastianelli & Pierre Goutenegre. Recommended, too, are fr. fruit salads, seafood & home-baked desserts. The "Imagination" group entertains for dancing in the lounge with a glowing fireplace — relax with an espresso drink made from magnificent European espresso machine. Farm memorabilia lend a nostalgic air to the elegant dinnerhouse.

KPEN'S popular D.J., MICHAEL DENNIS KELLY & his guest recently dined at the lovely GOLDEN ACORN in Menlo Park. He enjoyed his dinner so much, he sent flowers to thank me for the fine dining tip! Now that's the kind of appreciation I like!

Dining News: Benny Goodman's favorite restaurant on the Peninsula is CHEF CHU'S, where he enjoys the fine Northern Chinese cuisine. Laurence Chu serves excellent cuisine & is even admired by his peers for his culinary ability . . . Fresh "boneless" fileted fish can be ordered at THE FISH MARKET restaurant, or from their retail market in front. The owners catch from their own vessels off the coast. This is seafood gourmet style . . .

My new Alfa Romeo fuel-injected sports car won't run on water. I found this out the hard way when I tanked up at the Coast Oil Company Star & Bar station #7 on Highway 9 in San Jose. This was on Thursday, Oct. 5, 1978.

When my car wouldn't start shortly after and when other drivers in the vicinity came up with the same problem we realized that the unleaded pump was pumping both water and gas. The station supervisor soon arrived and determined that four inches of water were in the underground tank.

At this point, I got a signed statement from the supervisor that confirmed the water in the gas problem. Armed with this, I have made a formal demand to Texaco (the gasoline producers) and Coast Oil for my documented losses because of the water in my fuel system. This amounts to $1,386.68 and neither Texaco nor Coast seems willing to cooperate. What do you suppose will happen?

Don L. Ciffone,
Los Gatos.

Your documentation is perfect plus and should these companies not settle for the full amount, sue! You have as close to a perfect case as we have ever seen. Half of this load of gas was delivered to the Star & Bar station on Hamilton Avenue in San Jose which involved other cars in the same problem.

We would like to alert anyone purchasing gas (unleaded) from either of these stations on Oct. 5, 1978 — if you've suffered a stalling or engine failure, contact Consumers United for help. We have documentation that will help you press a legitimate claim.

Water in the fuel system of a fuel-injection car is very destructive and costs a bundle to correct. The standard carbureted cars can be de-watered for much less.

Minor amounts of water in a car's fuel system can be taken care of by a number of gasoline additives for the purpose that sell for about 80¢ per pint. It's a good idea to use one or two pint cans per year in the protective sense. Read the label — the stuff will blind you and can also remove the paint from your car.

An advertising note was left on my door that stated that I had been randomly selected to receive a free cutlery gift if I would make an appointment to receive a salesman for a vacuum cleaner company.

I made the appointment because the product is a good one and I did want to buy. The salesman came and subjected me to a super high pressure hustle for 30 minutes. The price of the cleaner was over $600 and I told him that I couldn't afford it.

He then became abusive and obscene, called my house filthy (it wasn't) and dumped the contents of the cleaner bag on my rug. The free cutlery gift was thrown on my porch as he left. Needless to say, I was terrified because I live alone and the man acted like a maniac. Can Consumers United stop these practices?

Mrs. J.L.R.,
San Jose.

We have contacted the phone company to determine the registered corporate owners of this sales firm and will do our best to see that their (taught) sales practices are modified.

Nov. 4 through Nov. 10

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Decision highlighted. The perfume of burning autumn leaves can prove mighty intoxicating, Ari, so be on guard. Keep in mind that slow and sure beats fast and foolish every time.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Permit love to invade the secret recesses of your heart. Taurus, and your perosnality takes on a sparkling new dimension. Week ahead can be one of the most important ones of entire year. Thirst you never even knew you had is quenched.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Don't waste time dealing with that which is shallow, Gem. Would Cousteau bother plumbing the depths of a saucer? Well then, why should you?

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Avoid painless discussions which can disintegrate into arguments. Your verbal darts are wasted on one who has hide of a rhinoceros — and brain to match.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Get organized, Leo. Clear desk and mind of clutter. Update your "little black book." Get your best threads pressed, your dancin' shoes polished and your mane trimmed. End of week for prowling.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Old debt must be paid. You know, Virgo, that one at the bottom of the heap which is yellowing with age. Protect your credit as your would your life — for credit can be your lifeline.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Old flame/debt returns to haunt. You simply can't hide in the weeds any longer, Libra, so settle up. Shadow dancing on wall gives clue to that which is to come. Week ends with a wink.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Old idea takes on new and exciting meaning. One at a distance plays key role in drama which unrolls. Regardless of age, dear Scorp, the best is yet to be. Oh yeah!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Don't blab. Secret plans must still be kept secret, Saj. If you are quizzed, plead the Fifth. You are an intense lover and honest friend, Saj, and this week you play both roles. On last day you fall in a heap.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Many of your problems are of your own making, Cap, so stop ranting against "fate." Instead, get your assets in gear and you discover that you are The Little Engine That Could. And should — and must — and will.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19): Slow down, Aquarius. Hectic pace leads to the banana plantation. Remember fable about the tortoise and the hare? Swiftness isn't everything.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Keep quiet concerning touchy matter. Polemics will only serve to further polarize party who is already pretty piqued. I'm sure that you, Pisces, get the point.

'Smokeout' day planned

If you intend to ask smokers around the country to try giving up their cigarettes even for one day, then you'd better be able to show them that you can do it yourself.

That's what Edward Asner ("Lou Grant" of television fame) intends to do on Thursday, Nov. 16. He's chairman of the nationwide "Great American Smokeout" — a day devoted to voluntarily giving up the weed.

Asner, a hard core smoker who started the habit when he was 17 because he "enjoyed the intoxication of it," considers himself "honor bound" to lay aside his cigarettes for 24 hours on Nov. 16. And he hopes that millions of smokers across the country will follow his lead.

The Santa Clara County Unit, American Cancer Society, announces Bruce Gossett of the Bay Area football fame as the local honorary chairperson. Gossett is a smoker and will join Asner in not smoking on Nov. 16.

Surveys conducted on "Smokeless Thursday" in 1977 indicated that more than five million smokers emulated the example of Sammy Davis, Jr., who also tried conscientiously to quit for a day.

Asner is addicted to one of the oldest high tar, high nicotine unfiltered brands, and he consumes about a pack a day. While working on the Mary Tyler Moore show he once gave up cigarettes for 18 months. But he accomplished this by switching to cigars, and retrogressed while on the road with the McKinley Players.

"The Great American Smokeout" is conceived by the American Cancer Society as lighthearted encouragement to smokers to do what most of them claim they want to do — give up cigarettes.

WE DON'T NEED ANOTHER DEATH PENALTY
California already has a strong death penalty law enacted in August of 1977. Our current law includes more categories of crimes punishable by death than any other state penal code. Proposition 7 would abolish the presently carefully drafted law and substitute it with a confused, poorly drawn and dangerous statute. WE DON'T NEED ANOTHER DEATH PENALTY.

Westmont honor students feted

An Honors Tea at Westmont High School Wednesday, October 25, recognized students who missed out on special recognition last June. Because spring semester all-A grades are not listed until after school is out for the summer, the top ranking students were not listed at the spring awards banquet.

Faculty members were on hand to serve refreshments and to award pen and pencil sets to the honored students. Invited guests include 77 all-A students and their parents.

The all-A students, as listed by Principal George Buonocore include:

Seniors — Marc Burrows, Yvette DeHertel, Kathy Epp, Ralph Foster, Gerard Kledzik, Heidi Lorenz, Richard Miller, Dawn Michaud, Kathleen Moredock, Denise Pelmulder, Jay Rosenheim, Nancy Severns, Neal Stansburg, Stacey Sutherland, Barry Upshaw, Cathy Winter, Kent Wong;

Juniors — Patricia Austin, Heather Bannion, Julie Bishop, Maria Figini, Darleen Jenkins, Andrea Leon, Marlene Maguire, Mark Nakano, Alisa Padgett, Mary Sauer, Garrett Turner, Theresa Voss;

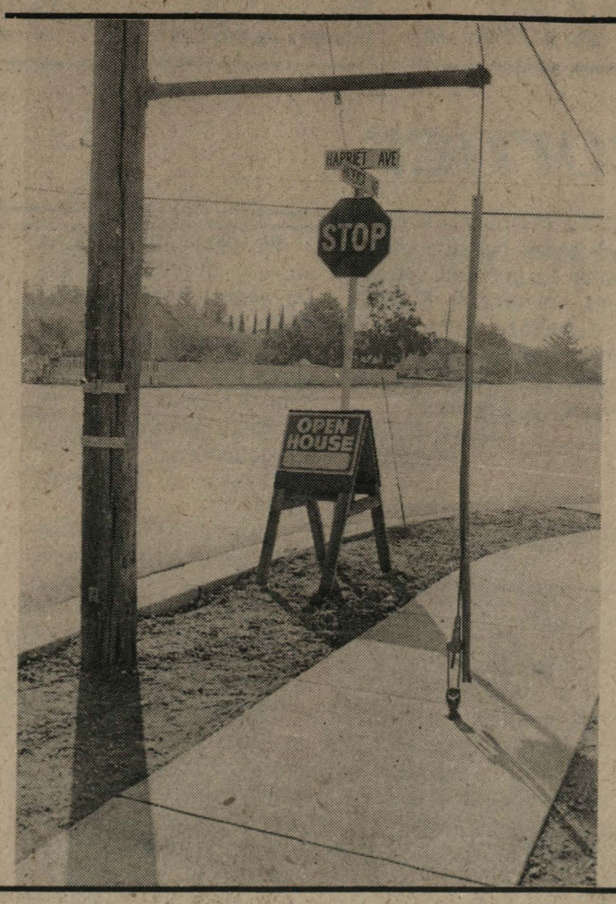
There were 23 more students on the list who graduated from Westmont last June. They include: Jennifer Anderson, Terri Barbatti, Janice Brauner, Tina Brown, David Callaway, Loreen Crittenden, Susan Daneke, Diana Davis, Colleen Dehertel, Cindy Frits, Carol Galea, Enedina Hernandez, Scott Hirose, Kyra Kelley, Lanette Lespade, Virginia Lowery, Cheryl Moore, Mike Neis, Stephen Nuich, John Rose, Walter Tersigni, Chris Wempe, and Roberta Wainwright.

It took about 24 seconds on the earliest sewing machines to sew a hundred stitches.



No middle of the roaders allowed

One of the complaints lodged by a westside resident attending a city meeting at San Tomas School recently was that a utility wire was anchored in the middle of a new sidewalk at the corner of Harriet avenue and Hacienda. That problem still existed last week then photographer Amy Huntoon took this picture. According to Dave Valenaar, PG & E usually moves their wiring in new construction areas before concrete is poured but workmen got ahead of the utility company this time. P G & E crews will be out soon to move the wire north of the new sidewalk and to fill in the resulting hole in the pavement.

Dress up old standby potatoes

By SHIRLEY TALLMAN

Dear Shirley,

If you like potatoes and want an interesting and nutritious new way to serve them then you should try Bavarian Potatoes. I adapted this recipe from "The Absolutely Delicious Cookbook" and this dish really is!

This recipe feeds four people as a side dish, but you can easily increase it to feed a larger group by just doubling the ingredients.

Thanks for all the good "penny pinchers."

Verna Wade, San Jose

BAVARIAN POTATOES

- 2 cups mashed, cooked potatoes
- 1½ cups cottage cheese
- ⅓ cup plus 2 T yogurt (I use homemade)
- 1¼ tsps. salt
- dash pepper to taste
- ¼ cup slivered almonds for garnish (optional but good)

1. Mix all ingredients (except almonds) with potatoes.
2. Pour into an oiled casserole dish.
3. Brush top lightly with oil.
4. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes.
5. Sprinkle top with chopped or slivered almonds and brown lightly under broiler. Serve hot.

I have to admit that when I saw cottage cheese listed as an ingredient I had my doubts about this dish. But tasting made me a believer! What an elegant (and nutritious) way to serve that good old stand-by, potatoes. If you serve them at a family meal, however, I suggest that you don't share the list of ingredients with the kids.

Thanks for sharing this unique recipe, Verna.

Dear Shirley,

Would you please run your recipe for homemade maple syrup again? I cut it out a long time ago and even made it once or twice, but can't find it now. We all liked it so much and it was a lot cheaper than the kind I was buying in the store. I'd like to make it again.

Leslie MacDonald
Cupertino

The maple syrup recipe has been one of the most popular we've ever run. For about 40¢ you can make 40 ounces of good pancake and waffle syrup that's very comparable to famous commercial name brands found in supermarkets for $1.89 or more.

This recipe is so simple that our kids generally make it themselves. They assign one person "syrup duty" while another mixes up the pancake batter. From start to finish it takes about 15 minutes.

HOMEMADE MAPLE SYRUP

- 4 C white sugar
- 1 cup lightly packed brown sugar
- 2 C water
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. maple flavoring
- ¼ tsp. cream of tartar

Boil sugars and water rapidly for 1 minute. Cool slightly. Add flavors and cream of tartar. This syrup thickens a bit more after it is cool.

Dear Shirley,

Here's a recipe I'd like to share that a real tasty tidbit. Mix cream cheese and plain yogurt together to make a creamy smooth spread. Put a liberal swath of it on a crisp cracker, then spoon on some chutney. It's addictive!

Freida Mueller
San Jose

This is another recipe we weren't so sure of until we tried it. But you're right, it's good! It should be great for parties and a nutritious snack for the kids. Thanks, Freida.

PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

On November 7th, California voters will be asked to legalize discrimination.

PROPOSITION 6 on the November 7th ballot, is an unprecedented attack on the constitutional rights of all Californians. It attacks:

CHILDREN AND PARENTS. Proposition 6 would bring witchhunts to our schools, making them centers of controversy, not education. Supporters of Proposition 6 say it would protect children from abuse, but the State Department of Public Instruction and law enforcement agencies say existing laws are sufficient.

TEACHERS. Proposition 6 would allow public investigations into the private lives of school employees whether they are heterosexual or homosexual. It would take away every teacher's right to free speech.

GAY PEOPLE. Proposition 6 is based on ill-founded myths about gay women and men that have nothing to do with their fitness for jobs or their rights as American citizens.

TAXPAYERS. Enforcing Proposition 6 would require hearings and bureaucracy that would, according to the state Legislative Analyst, cost every taxpayer money.

MINORITIES. Prejudice, employment discrimination and unequal rights are problems every minority person knows well. Proposition 6 would make such discrimination legal against many people.

LABOR. Proposition 6 would invade the privacy of workers and take away the right to work for many. Skilled and competent employees could be fired for reasons which are unrelated to their job performance.

SINGLE PEOPLE. Proposition 6 would create a climate of fear that would make single people possible targets of harrassment.

These elected officials and organizations already have said NO to Proposition 6.

What Measure A would mean for county parks' future

BY ELIZABETH FERNANDEZ

IN THE post-13 aura of gloom, it sounds too good to be true: new parks can be bought, developed, and maintained at no additional cost to the taxpayers. And all within the limitations of Jarvis-Gann. But that is exactly what the County Charter parks amendment promises.

Six years ago the Park Trust Fund was established as the solution to runaway urbanization. The fund financed the acquisition and development of regional parks in the Santa Clara Valley. Area residents wrote a 10-cent tax for park site acquisition into the county charter, and levied it for 10 years.

But the program now needs to be adjusted to meet the restrictions on government spending mandated by Prop. 13. Some land purchased since 1972, such as an additional 970 acres to Ed Levin Park, has been lying fallow because no funds were available to turn the grounds into park sites; consequently the acreage would go into the land bank and remain undeveloped.

Measure A on the November ballot will give voters an opportunity to extend the county program for five years and to broaden the use of the park fund to include operations and maintenance.

Specifically, a "yes" vote on the referendum permits up to 30 percent of the parks tax to be used for the maintenance and operation of county parks. It also requires that half the money in the fund be spent for new park sites. The measure is intended to provide a balanced park program — supporting the operation of existing parks while investing in new ones.

A "NO" vote will continue to restrict the fund solely to park acquisition and development. It will also retain the current deadline of 1983 for the special claim of 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation of the county.

It will not reduce property taxes; "A" only defines how existing tax revenues are allocated for park purposes.

Charles Gale, assistant director of the county Parks and Recreation department, thinks of the measure as, "the citizen's advisory vote to tell the board how he wants his park funds spent."

Gale paints a bleak picture of the current park operational set-up: "Because of Prop. 13, funds were greatly curtailed. One-third of our staff was eliminated. We also had to cut such services as the swimming, lifeguard programs, turf irrigation, and litter control."

Passage of the measure would restore the program to its pre-Jarvis budget.

The county general fund has allocated the parks department just over $7 million for fiscal '78 and '79 Measure A's passage would insure that $3.5 million or 50 percent, went towards additional land buying; just over $2 million or 30 percent would be earmarked for operations and maintenance; and 20 percent or $1.4 million would be spent on park development.

No argument has been raised in the ballot opposing the measure.

SINCE '72 when county voters decided it was now-or-never time for parks, Ed Levin in Milpitas, Penitencia Creek, Coyote, and Rancho San Antonio parks, among others, were purchased and conversion for public use begun.

But the parks department still wants to acquire 8,000 more acres and develop 13 existing parks and reservoirs scattered throughout the county by 1982. Passage of the measure with its five-year program extension would almost insure the fulfillment of their plan, Gale explains. "By 1887, both the short range and long term park proposals should basically be accomplished," he said. He pointed out that it should also keep park attendance, which has annually been increasing half a million, on the upswing.

Giving their support to Measure A are the County Board of Supervisors, the Park Commission and assorted environmental groups.

Bradley pops out of retirement to challenge Sen. Jerry Smith

By CAROLYN LEAL

Seventy-year-old Clark Bradley is coming out of retirement to challenge State Senator Jerry Smith, the 42-year-old father of five who knocked Bradley out of the same 12th District Senate seat four years ago.

"I tried retirement and I didn't like it," says Bradley.

Both he and Smith are attorneys and both are seeking to represent voters in the district which covers Santa Clara, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Monte Sereno, Campbell, Los Altos, Los Altos Hills, Cupertino and part of San Jose. But there the similarity ends.

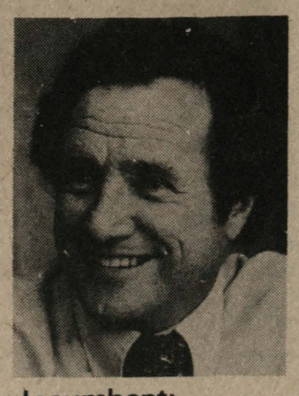
Curly-haired, accessible and usually smiling, Democrat Smith is running a campaign around the theme, "What you say does count." He was the first of the politicians to abandon wheels in local parades and walk down the street, five kids in tow, shaking hands. centers and surprised voters by holding "office hours" on the sidewalk. He says he favors "a people kind of government" — open and responsive, free of red tape.

"I'll do all I can to make government accountable and cut waste," says Smith. "I'll do all I can to be sure our environment remains a human place to live by maintaining realistic air and water standards and keeping our streets safe from crime."

SMITH, A pal of Governor Jerry Brown, is generally put in the box labeled "liberal." He describes himself as a liberal on civil rights and personal liberties issues and a conservative when it comes to tax reform and reduction in government spending.

Neither he nor Bradley supported Proposition 13 prior to the election but both say they've clearly heard the message of the people regarding tax reform. Smith refused a legislative salary increase.

Republican Bradley says he's a conservative and therefore by nature frugal. "You'll never control inflation as long as you have liberals controlling Sacramento and Washington, D. C. The principle of liberals is to tax and spend while the conservative philosophy is to tax no more than necessary and to do everything possible to reduce government and decentralize."

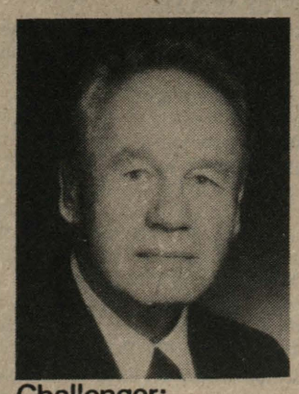


Incumbent:
Jerry Smith

By Bradley's count, there are eight conservatives and 32 liberals in the Senate. "I don't think that imbalance is in the best interest of the state."

Most observers think Smith will have no trouble with his bid for re-election. The District has more Democrats than Republicans registered — 53 percent to 38 percent. But the California Journal, the monthly analysis of state government and politics, calls Bradley a "longshot" on the ballot.

HERE'S what it has to say: "Democrat Jerry Smith has moved up the chairs in the Senate rapidly since being elected four years ago from this marginal district in Santa Clara County. He defeated then-Senator Clark Bradley by almost 20,000 voters in 1974. The question is whether Bradley can ride an anti-incumbent, pro-conservative tide into a comeback at the age of 70."



Challenger:
Clark Bradley

Ironically, Bradley says it was the post-Watergate mood that helped Smith 1974. "There was a Watergate backlash that year and a number of Republicans went down," shrugs knock him out of office in Bradley.

Bradley favors getting back to freeway and highway construction suspended the last four years; opposes school teachers and public employees having the right to strike; favors capital punishment and nuclear power development and opposes the notion of no-growth.

Smith's priorities are: Correcting the inequities and imbalances of taxation; containing rising costs of government spending; establishing more stringent standards of quality in public education and formulating an equitable school finance plan.

Bradley was educated at San Jose State and Hastings Law School, is married to wife Lois and is the father of four grown children. He is a former San Jose City Councilman and Mayor, former State Assemblyman and served 12 years in the State Senate.

Smith, former Mayor of the City of Saratoga, holds B.S. and law degrees from the University of Santa Clara. He is married to Kevil Smith, and lives in Saratoga. In the Senate, he serves on Education, Finance, Natural Resources, Wildlife and Rules Committees.

Westmont crushes Bucs

By RANDY FREY

WESTMONT HIGH school may just be the most powerful football team at this stage of the West Valley Athletic League race.

Unfortunately for the Warriors, they lost two early season games to Los Gatos and Branham to knock them out of WVAL title contention.

But since those losses coach Don Stagnaro has made some personnel changes and the result has been an entirely different ballclub. He moved his big defensive linemen over to offense.

A week ago Westmont blanked Camden 41-0, a win that did not draw much attention considering the Cougars had yielded 142 points in five games.

But when Westmont pasted Campbell 44-14 Friday afternoon, that's a different story. Campbell was supposed to be a title contender.

"Offensively we played just about as good as we are going to play football," said Stagnero. "We got off to a very quick start and kept rolling from there."

The game was never close. Westmont scored the first three times it had the ball and rolled to a 31-8 halftime lead.

The Warriors drove 72 yards on their first possession, Perry Lunt picking up the final two yards. The big play on the drive was a 27-yard pass from Mike Grado to Steve Moore.

THE BUCS were unable to move the ball on their first possession, but Westmont made sure they were unable to punt as well. Bill Stouffer raced in to block Howard Hansen's punt, then scooped up the ball and ran 22 yards for another touchdown.

Four plays later Gary Barden intercepted a Bob Greisinger pass and returned it 30 yards to the Campbell 10-yard line. The Warriors could not put the ball into the endzone, but Paul Hammil booted a 21-yard field goal to give Westmont a quick 17-0 lead.

Campbell did come back to score at the end of the first period, but that would be it for the remainder of the first half.

The Bucs drove 63 yards in eight plays, Greisinger completing four of five passes on the way.

On first down Greisinger hit Kevin Bradley for 10 yards, with 15 more yards tacked on for a personal foul.

Greisinger then passed 19 yards to Dave Erkman before finding Bradley again on fourth down at the Westmont seven yard line. From there he hit Jeff Melrose for the touchdown and again for the two-point conversion.

Westmont quickly drove back down field only to lose the ball on a Lunt fumble on the Campbell 11-yard line. Lunt finished the day with 186 yards rushing on 22 carries and three touchdowns.

The Warriors got the ball back six plays later when the Bucs were forced to punt and marched 63 yards in eight plays for another score.

LUNT CARRIED the ball three times on the drive, gaining five, 21 and 17 yards. The final run was good for the touchdown.

On their final possession of the half Westmont scored again, Grado going to the air this time. He passed to Tim Mooney for 17 yards and then to Moore for 15 yards before Lunt gained 18 more on a draw play.

The final nine yards were covered on a Grado to Mooney pass.

Fired-up at the start of the second half, Campbell took the kick-off and drove 76 yards in seven plays to close the gap to 31-14.

Greisinger kept around end for 10 yards before handing off to Erkman up the middle for 19 more. He then passed to Ken Schmidt for eight yards before Lunt picked off a pass for the Warriors.

However, Greisinger was roughed up on the play and 15 yards marched off against Westmont, giving the ball back to Campbell on the Warriors' 12-yard line. Erkman ran around end on the next play for the touchdown.

But the wind was quickly taken out of Campbell's sail when Westmont took the ensuing kick and drove 68 yards in five plays to put the game out of reach.

Manuel Gandarilla burst up the middle for 34 yards on the first play of the drive and Lunt picked up 10 more on two carries before Grado passed 23 yards to Moore for the touchdown.

GANDARILLA ended the game with 84 yards on nine carries and Vic Herrera had 20 yards on five carries for the Warriors.

Jackie Murdick was Campbell's leading ground gainer, picking up 56 yards on 11 carries. Erkman had 55 yards on eight tries.

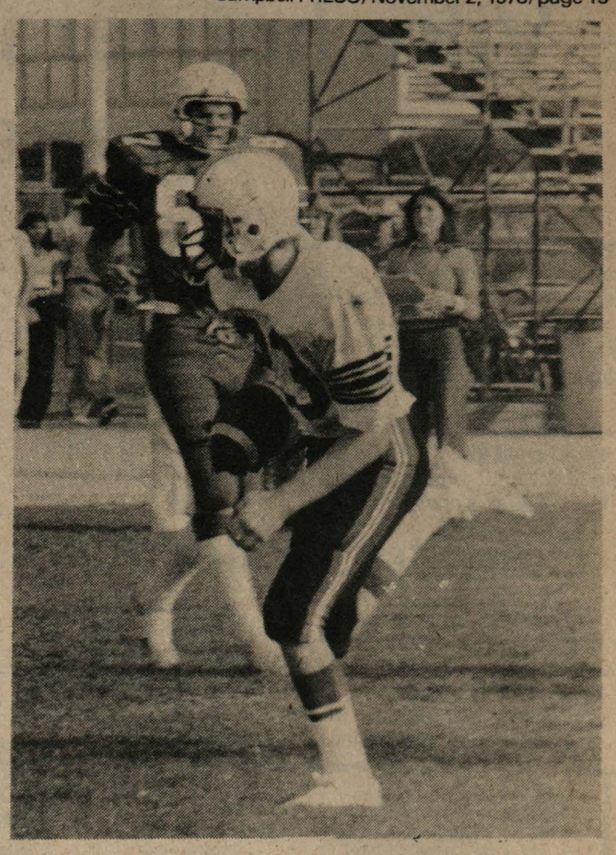
Passing, Grado was eight for 14 for 159 yards and two touchdowns. He had no interceptions. Greisinger was 13 for 30 for 143 yards. He tossed five interceptions.

Moore caught four passes for 76 yards, Mooney hauled in three passes for 59 yards. Schmidt was Campbell's leading receiver, catching five passes for 74 yards. Bradley and Erkman each caught three passes and Melrose two.

Stagnaro praised his defense as having played an excellent game. Stouffer and Jim Weckler each had sacks of the quarterback and Greg Gorman did a good job going up against Campbell's big Steve Aimonetti, Stagnaro said.

Westmont will face Del Mar next, and Stagnaro said the Dons have been the Warriors' nemesis in recent years. Del Mar is coming off an upset win over Leigh going into Friday's 2:45 p.m. game at Westmont.

Campbell will entertain Prospect Friday, also at 2:45 p.m. The Panthers are coming off a big win over Blackford.



BIG GAINER — Perry Lunt was the big ground gainer for Westmont last Friday when the Warriors crushed Campbell 44-14 on the Buc field. Lunt carried 22 times for the Warriors for 186 yards and three touchdowns. He also intercepted a pass in the victory.

Lopez TD toss lifts Dons to loop victory

THERE AREN'T many teams around that can call upon a reserve quarterback who has thrown five touchdown passes while seeing only parttime duty. The Del Mar Dons, however, are fortunate to have just such a back-up.

Rich Lopez, filling in for an injured Bruce Prothro, fired his fifth touchdown pass of the season last Friday afternoon and it proved to be the game winner as the Dons defeated the visiting Leigh Longhorns 14-7.

Prothor, who scored the Dons' first touchdown on a one yard plunge in the first quarter, was forced out of the game with a slight concussion.

But Lopez came on in his place to flip a nine yard touchdown pass to Todd Scolari in the third stanza, pushing the Dons- lead to 13-0.

Jeff Barone's extra point kick made it 14-0. Prothro, the Dons' usual place kicker, booted the first extra point for Del Mar.

THE LONGHORNS made things interesting late in the third quarter when Kevin Kevorkian raced 23 yards for a touchdown with a pass from quarterback Pat Esposito.

Joe Vitale's extra point kick cut Del Mar's lead in half.

But that was as close as the Longhorns would come, thanks to an outstanding performance by the Del Mar defense.

The Dons, who improved their West Valley Athletic League record to 2-3 and their overall mark to 2-5, travel to Westmont Friday afternoon for a 2:45 p.m. contest with the explosive Warriors.

The Warriors, who ripped Campbell 44-14 last week, have scored a total of 85 points in their last two games and 129 points in their last three outings. Westmong takes a 4-2 league record into action Friday.

Tickner's SJ stay anything but restful

LOS Angeles' Mick Tickner wasn't laughing too hard at one-liners like "Is there a doctor in the house?" or "What's up Doc?" when he visited the area to take part in the Western States Modified Compact 100 lap race at the Fremont Raceway oval.

Because a San Jose "Doc" made Tickner's stay in San Jose anything but restful!

Tickner won the title in the 100 lap feature race for the second straight year at Fremont, but Doc Theroux of San Jose was examining him closely all the way to the finish line to end up a close second.

Tickner, also the trophy dash winner, was first in the 22 car main event and Theroux operated well enough to get second. Jim Meeks of San Jose was third with Tres Gurney fourth and Glen Carson fifth.

Dean Nelson of Campbell was second to Tickner in, the trophy dash with Hal Harter of San Jose third and Dennis Golobic of Sunnyvale fourth. Nelson was the fast qualifier of the day on the quarter-mile oval at 19.004.

RON Wright of Los Gatos won the semi-main with Ron McMillar second, Jerry Young third, Fred Goessel of Los Altos fourth and Pat Gurney of San Jose fifth.

Randy Albers won the main event and the trophy dash in the A sedan class in the Oct. 21 race at Fremont. Gary Liedorff of Fremont was second in the main with Jeff Albers third, Mike Reynick fourth and Larry Latham of Fremont fifth and Lee Shurtleff of Milpitas was second in the dash with Liedorff third and Dan Avila of San Jose fourth.

Frank Schirado won the regular season point crown and came back to win the main event in the special season-ending race in the B sedan division.

Schirado was first in the main with Jack VanWettering of San Jose second, Barry Daniel of Fremont third, Gerald Brown of Campbell fourth and Craig Forney of Sunnyvale fifth.

VanWettering won the tophy dash with Daniel second, Schirado third and Herb Pike of San Jose fourth and Robert Reid of San Jose took the semi-main with John Walsh of Fremont second, Richard Ingram of San Jose third, Richard Furrer fourth and Glen Kerslake of Los Gatos fifth.

Pete's catch

WHEN Oakland Raider running back Pete Banaszak caught a 12 yard pass against Kansas City recently it lifted his career reception yardage over the 1,000 mark.

Vike harriers run to men's, women's GGC titles

THE GOLDEN GATE Conference cross country title was on the line last Friday when West Valley's Vikings and San Mateo's Bulldogs ran into each other with 6-0 records at the Coyote Hills Regional Park in Hayward.

The two teams were together with San Jose City College for a double-dual meet that would end the season and determine the championship.

But by the time the first 10 runners from the three schools had hit the finish line, it was obvious which team would walk away with the GGC gold. Because six runners in that top 10 were wearing the orange and blue stripes of West Valley College.

West Valley dominated the top 10 to crush San Mateo 21-38 and San Jose 19-43 to put a lock on the conference championship for another year.

Mike Dyer (Saratoga) finished first for the Vikings, covering the 4.0 mile course in 20:02, before San Jose's Paul Seachrist (Piedmont Hills) nabbed second at 20:20.

Leroy Bumbaca (Wilcox) was third for WVC at 20:23 before Bulldog runners finished four and fifth.

But then Kurt Karbowski (Pioneer) finished sixth at 20:49, Kurt Graves was seventh at 20:57, Vance Eberly (Los Gatos) was ninth at 20:59 and Greg Szanto (Saratoga) was 10th at 21:09 to drive the Vikings to the easy win.

THE VIKING women crushed San Jose 19-41 and San Mateo 15-49 to coast to the GGC championship.

Returning state champion Ann Wotherspoon (Los Altos) was first for the Vikings at 16:45 over the 3.0 mile course and Kathy Perkins (Leigh) was second at 16:51.

Irene Crowley (Overfelt) was third for San Jose at 17:20 but Jackie Hendrickson (Westmont) was fourth at 17:58 and Diana Davis (Westmont) was fifth at 18:10.

Val Eberly (Los Gatos) finished seventh at 18:25 and Pam Bowers was eighth at 18:35.

Both Viking teams finished the dual meet year with 8-0 records and will move on to the GGC finals on Friday at the 4.18 mile Crystal Springs course in San Mateo.

The Northern California championships will be held the following Saturday, Nov. 11, at Crystal Springs and the state championships will be held on Saturday, Nov. 18, in San Diego.

"We could finish in the top five in the state and in the top three if we run very well," said Campbell of the men's team. "I think both teams can win Northern California and our women should win the state."

Collectors collection

NORCAL II, the northern California Collector's Show & Swap, will be held Saturday, Nov. 4, at Acalanes high school in Lafayette. The convention is for baseball card and sports memorabilia collectors.

Reprint cards will not be allowed at the annual convention.

Marrotti's lift No Names to win

BOB Marrotti bashed a home run and Frank Marrotti drilled a pair of doubles to pace the No Names to a 9-4 triumph over Jordan Construction recently in the men's B division of the Campbell adult winter softball league.

The victory raised the No Names' record to 4-0, keeping them a half game in front of Steve Peacock Insurance and Killroy.

Larry Bigham and Dave Stafford both chipped in with doubles for the winners while Ron Enos homered and Rick Rubello tripled for the losers.

Killroy kep pace with the No Names by defeating the Bedlam Boys 14-10.

Braves succumb to running of Panthers' dynamic duo

THE Prospect Panthers had a definite game plan in mind when they hosted the Blackford Braves last Friday afternoon — avoid mistakes and run, run, run.

The Panthers managed to do both with great success, resulting in a 31-13 rout of the visiting Braves.

"We've run the ball well now for the last four or five weeks," said Panther head coach Earl Adams. "We didn't make any mistakes and we were able to take advantage of their turnovers."

Prospect, which threw the ball only five times all afternoon, rolled up 365 yards on the ground behind the running of junior Dave Maloney and Randy Chase.

Maloney, seeking to become the first Panther to ever rush for over 1,000 yards in a single season, toted the ball 21 times for 165 yards and two touchdowns. The Panther standout now has over 800 yards for the season and had score a team leading nine touchdowns.

Chase, meanwhile, carried the ball 17 times for 123 yards and two TD's.

AFTER THE Braves had taken a 7-0 lead on a Clay Ritchie four yard touchdown run and Mike De La Pena's extra point kick, the Panthers tied the game on an eight yard touchdown run by Maloney and Phil Rebboah's PAT boot, capping a nine play 75 yard drive.

A Frank Smith fumble recovery at the Blackford 32 set a short Panther scoring drive in motion midway through the second period, Chase concluding the drive with a four yard run to paydirt. Rebboah again kicked the PAT.

The Panthers improved their halftime lead to 17-7 on the final play of the second quarter when Rebboah drilled a 41 yard field goal, smashing the sold school record of 24 yards set by Bob Timpany in 1972.

Maloney scored again in the third quarter on a 14 yard run, giving him a total of seven touchdowns in his last four games. Rebboah added the extra point.

Chase capped the Panthers' season high scoring outburst in the fourth period with an eight yard touchdown run. Rebboah tacked on his fourth consecutive PAT, giving him seven points for the day.

The Braves made the final score a little more respectable in the closing minutes of the game when De La Pena fired an eight yard touchdown pass to Ritchie.

DE LA PENA now has nine touchdown passes for the season, tying him with Westmont's Mike Grado for top honors in the West Valley Athletic League.

Adams gave credit to his junior-ladden offensive line for Prospect's great success on the ground, singling out center Ken Galloway, guards Todd Levine and Mark Anderson, tackles Greg Kent and Mario Delgado, and tight ends Mark Erikson and Jim Harrigan. Of that group, only Delgado is a senior.

Rebboah, in addition to his brilliant place kicking performance, keyed the Panther defense with two interceptions. Other defensive standouts for Prospect included ends Jim Macon and Frank Smith, cornerback Scott Williams and nose guard Chase.

The Panthers, who improved their WVAL record to 2-3, visit the Campbell Buccaneers Friday afternoon while the Braves travel to Branham. Both games are slated to start at 2:45 p.m.

Bad week humbles pickers

AFTER THREE terrific weeks of picking high school football winners in the West Valley Athletic League, the prep pickers at this paper ate a little humble pie last Friday afternoon.

The predictors here had picked 14 or 15 WVAL winners going into last week before suffering through a dismal 2-3 performances.

The rugged week dropped our overall WVAL record to 27-10, but we're looking for better things this week.

Leigh will open the WVAL week Thursday in an 8 p.m. non-league game against Saratoga at Los Gatos. The Longhorns will fall by eight.

On Friday, Del Mar visits Westmont, Prospect heads to Campbell and Blackford goes to Branham for 2:45 p.m. games while Camden journeys to Los Gatos for an 8 p.m. start.

All four homes teams will come up winners, the Warriors by 12, the Bucs by eight, the Bruins by 16 and the Wildcats by 21.
